

Chrome Art Deco Table Lamp with Clock

A really stylish small table lamp from the Art Deco period, featuring a timepiece clock within the base.

The hemispherical chrome-plated globe shade is mounted on two sweeping brass arms on a bimetallic stepped base, the brass sections adding warm tones and contrast to the chrome.

The 8-day mechanical clock has a silvered rectangular dial with black Arabic numerals and black steel moon hands. The movement has an inbuilt key for easy winding and a regulation slot at the back.

The electric supply cable to the lamp has been converted to modern wiring with a standard plug. Standard bayonet fit bulb.

Height: 25cm

Width: 17cm (diameter of the shade)

Base width : 11cm

Base Depth: 7cm

Dated c.1930