Repairs & Restoration

Having set up his repair business in 1982, Ian feels it is time to concentrate on the sales side of the business at a slightly more relaxed, slower pace.
He is glad to announce that Ashley Streather, a long serving employee of Carlton Clocks, will be taking up the reins with the able assistance and support of the rest of the team. Four full-time horologists, plus a network of highly-skilled specialist craftsman can undertake the full restoration service including cabinet work, gilding, enamelling, and dial restoration.
The name above the door has changed to Chalfont Clocks, but the horologists remain the same, and will continue to provide on-site restoration services in Little Chalfont, offering the same high quality of craftsmanship, expertise and customer service that they always have.
Where Carlton Clocks have serviced your clock, Chalfont Clocks will honour any guarantee work required.
